

28 Are Burned To Death When Plane Crashes In New Jersey

Former Secretary Of War Patterson Among Those Consumed In Fire

Elizabeth, N. J., Jan. 23 (AP)—A fog-bound American Airlines passenger plane, groping its way into Newark airport on instruments, nose-dived into a residential area Tuesday and brought flaming death to its 23 occupants and five other persons.

Robert P. Patterson, 60-year-old former secretary of war, was one of the victims.

The silver, twin-engine Convair, inbound from Buffalo, hurtled into a three-story frame apartment building and exploded in a mass of leaping, orange flame that enveloped two nearby dwellings.

A mother and her two children were killed as their home collapsed about them in a hurricane-like blast. A third child, trapped in another building, and an unidentified person also died in the flames.

Eleven Are Injured

Screaming residents ran for safety. Eleven persons were injured, including nine occupants of nearby homes just 2.8 miles from Newark airport.

For 90 minutes, no one could get near the raging inferno, where the 18 passengers, three crew members and two company personnel aboard the plane were burned beyond recognition. For a time the roaring blaze threatened to engulf the entire block.

Clouds of steam and smoke blanketed the area, which is less than a mile from the spot where a Miami Airlines, non-scheduled plane crashed in the Elizabeth river 38 days ago, killing 56 persons in the nation's second worst commercial plane disaster.

Yesterday's crash brought immediate demands for a full investigation of the plane and Newark airport facilities.

Mayor James T. Kirk said this city of 112,000, about 12 miles southwest of New York city, has been living under an "umbrella of danger" and that Newark airport should be relocated "regardless of cost."

The plane had started its landing approach from a height of about 1,500 feet, using an instrument landing system, with an assist from Newark airport's radar. The ceiling was down to 400 feet and visibility was cut to three-fourths of a mile.

It was reported coming in on its glide path. Suddenly, the plane dropped out of view of the radar scope and crashed at 3:45 p.m. (EST).

U. S. ACQUIRES 353 ACRES LAND IN THIS COUNTY

The United States has acquired by condemnation three properties totalling approximately 353 acres at the "Raven Rock Communications Center Military Reservation," according to a "Decree of Declaration of Taking No. 1," filed today with the county register and recorder.

The decree was handed down Friday by Judge Frederick V. Pollner, of the U. S. District Court, Middle District of Pennsylvania.

The paper directs the register and recorder to file the declaration as a deed giving the U. S. government title to all of the land "forthwith."

According to the paper, $3,425 has been deposited with the registry of the Middle District court to be paid to the persons owning the land.

Made at the request of the Secretary of the Army, the order giving title states the land is needed "to adequately provide for establishment of facilities for use of the Department of the Army and other military uses in Adams county," and lists the lands as "for use in connection with Camp Albert C. Ritchie."

Land taken by the government includes 8.89 acres in Hamiltonban and Liberty township owned by Elinore M. Linebaugh, 240 acres owned by Alfred and Georgia Estelle Hoft, minus a certain plot in Liberty township and 105 acres owned by Rebecca and Charles S. Martin, in Liberty township.

WILLIAM HEAGEY BADLY INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

William D. Heagey, 66, of Third street, Biglerville, is in critical condition in the Warner hospital with severe lacerations of the scalp and a possible fractured skull, following an accident on the Gettysburg-Biglerville road at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday a half mile south of Biglerville.

State police of the Gettysburg substation said that Heagey was driving his automobile toward Biglerville and ran off the left side of the highway striking a power line pole. His head went through the windshield, police said.

Report $400 Damage

The impact of the crash cracked the pole but did not break it. The power line supported by the pole carries 13,000 volts of electricity, police said, but wires were not knocked down. Damage to the car was estimated at $250 and to the pole at $150.

Three other accidents were investigated by state police Tuesday. In none of these, however, was anyone injured, they said.

Automobiles operated by Joseph P. Canepa, 27, of Mt. Morris, N. Y., and Cpl. Harry C. Chais, 32, of Columbia, S. C., collided in Dillsburg at 9:45 a.m. Police said Canepa applied his brakes and slid into the other car on the slippery street. Damage to the Canepa car was estimated at $75 and to the Chais car at $100.

New Oxford Crash

When the automobile of John L. Zetmeier, 35, of Palmer, Alaska, slowed down for another car making a turn in front of him, it was struck by an automobile operated by Mark J. Smith, 26, of New Oxford R. 1, according to police. The accident occurred at 2:30 o'clock on the Lincoln highway a mile east of New Oxford.

Both cars were traveling east. Police said that Smith was unable to bring his car to a stop. Damage to the Smith car was estimated at $200 and to the Zetmeier car at $150.

An automobile operated by Nick Valcheff, 41, of Norfolk, Va., and a truck driven by Harold Sherman Hollander, 22, of York, collided on the Harrisburg road in York Springs at 10 o'clock Tuesday night, according to state police. The car suffered $10 damage and there was no damage to the truck, police said.

969 PROPERTIES SOLD IN '51 FOR SIX MILLIONS

Purchasers spent approximately $6,000,000 for 969 Adams county properties in 1951, according to the report sent from the county to the state Tax Equalization board.

The report does not list the amounts paid for properties, but does list the amount of federal stamps placed on the deeds. With the stamps totalling $6,167.35, it would indicate that the properties cost their purchasers in the neighborhood of $6,000,000.

That amount would indicate an average purchase price of about $6,000, but the actual sales varied from tiny plots of ground sold for a dollar or two by neighbors to other neighbors to allow them to square off a property to farms of several hundred acres, costing up to $40,000, and business properties bringing up to $80,000.

May Busiest Month

The properties totalling approximately 18,230 acres, and report indicates that approximately 180 farms were sold during the year. While the report listed only acreage rather than the type of property transferred, with the exception of factories, those deeds transferring large acreages generally referred to farms and are included in the count as farms.

According to the records, most farms are sold in the first six months of the year. Judging by the acreage of the properties sold there were 18 farms sold last January, 18 in February, 26 in March, 20 in April, 25 in May and 16 in June. Fewer farms were sold during the last six months; nine in July, eight in August, nine each in September and October, 12 in November and 11 in December.

April is traditionally the month for "flittins" in Adams county, but May seems to be the month for property transfers. At least that month saw the largest number of deeds recorded, 114. The month by (Please Turn to Page 8)

DANCE ON FEB. 9 TO BE LIBRARY BENEFIT AFFAIR

Final plans for the annual Valentine dance, to be held February 9, at Gettysburg high school, were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Epsilon Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in the sorority house on East High street.

Miss Margaret Spangler, president of the club, reported that the group hopes to raise $1,000 for the building fund of the Adams County Free Library through the dance. Money raised through the dance, Community Chest and county appropriations goes toward maintenance of the library, she explained.

The funds to be raised by the dance will go towards such projects as repairing the present garage at the library, repainting the library building, or completing the removal of the old cell block to the rear of the library. The present library is in the former Adams county jail. The borough removed the huge stone wall surrounding the one-time jail, and part of the section which once housed the cells for prisoners has also been removed. The library itself is in the part formerly used as the sheriff's quarters.

To Choose "Queen of Hearts"

A "Queen of Hearts," to reign over the Valentine dance, and two attendants will be selected from among the women attending the dance who are in evening gowns. The group voted to confine the selection of the queen and attendants to those in formal evening gowns because "it looks better for the queen to be so dressed."

A combination radio and clock will be given away at the dance. Fred Harry's orchestra will provide the music. Tickets, at $5 for sponsor tickets admitting two, and $1.25 for individual admissions, are going well, reports from the members disclosed.

A program on "The Story of Speech" was presented by Mrs. Bernard Little.

Both cars were traveling east. Police said that Smith was unable to bring his car to a stop. Damage to the Smith car was estimated at $200 and to the Zetmeier car at $150.

Here And There News Collected At Random

We have enjoyed more reader interest in our story on Adams county's covered bridges, and the subsequent publication of individual pictures of the structures than any previous feature article we have published for some time.

The New Year's day article pleased our readers. One ardent subscriber told us, "It is the finest New Year's gift anyone could ask for or expect." Another said, "I enjoyed that article more than any I have read in a long time."

With the announcement that we will have additional copies (on enamel paper) of the county map showing the location of the bridges we have received many more enthusiastic responses. If you want a copy of the map reserved for you (they are free) write or telephone us. They will be available in about two weeks.

We appreciate the following interesting and self-explanatory letter from William C. Darrah, Gettysburg R. 1:

"I have read with appreciation that you will issue copies of the map of the location of covered bridges in Adams county. Please reserve a copy for me. For two reasons this will be welcome, the sturdier paper and the fact that my preserved copy was unavoidably soaked in the rain."

"As a newcomer to the community, let me say a word of congratulations to The Times. Not only do we find fullest coverage of local news, the highlights of national and international news."

Residents Asked Not To Phone Fire House When Siren Sounds

"When the fire siren sounds, please do not call the fire engine house and ask the location of the fire. Turn on your radios. Station WGET will give the location as soon as it is determined."

This was a request to the public which came out of a meeting of Gettysburg fire department radio operators and drivers of apparatus, held Tuesday night at the engine house, with Fire Chief Donald G. Jacobs presiding.

Another development in the exchange of ideas for the betterment of the department and its service to the public was a decision to limit the speed of fire trucks answering an alarm to 55 miles per hour outside the borough and to 25 miles an hour within the borough's built-up sections.

A suggestion was also made that drivers proceed at slower speed in making the turn from East Middle street into Baltimore street, for the safety of both those on the trucks and other firemen who are driving in their own cars to the engine house in response to the alarm.

The plea to residents not to call the fire engine house to learn the location of a fire was made because such calls, when there is a fire, interfere with the work of the operators.

The service provided by WGET in broadcasting the location and nature of the fire was praised by the firemen and the public was asked to use this means rather than to call the engine house at a time when radio operators are busy.

Letter Carriers Re-elect Geiselman

Wilbur A. Geiselman was re-elected president of local Branch No. 889, of the National Association of Letter Carriers, at a meeting of the branch held Monday night at the home of William R. Swisher, East Middle street.

Mr. Swisher was elected vice president to succeed George L. Bushman, and Druid C. Deitch was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Plans were made for a ladies night banquet to be held February 21 at Banker's restaurant. Mr. Swisher is chairman. The host showed colored slides of pictures taken on a western trip last summer. Refreshments were served.

SAYS COLLAPSE OF ADVERTISING WOULD HURT U. S.

Tracing a picture of what could happen in America if all advertising were suddenly halted, Murray Goldsborough, manager of WGET, told members of the Exchange club Tuesday that such an occurrence would reduce this nation "to a shambles."

Mr. Goldsborough was the speaker at the weekly dinner meeting of the club held at Banker's restaurant. David E. Garfinkle, Jr., president of the club, presided at the brief business session.

Cites Old Systems

"Not so long ago, in the light of world history, communication was by word of mouth, tom-toms, smoke signals or symbols on a strip of birch bark," Mr. Goldsborough said. "There was, and there had been, almost literally, no progress, no comfort, and little culture."

"Suddenly our world, and especially our nation, started to grow and progress, and for the most part, within the brief span of two centuries we have grown and grown to a point of comfort and education and standards of living almost beyond the dreams of our forefathers. Woven deeply into the pattern of this phenomenal progress is the great and priceless ingredient of communication."

"Scientists and inventors gave us the basic treasures one by one. The introduction of these treasures to millions of people, their availability at a cost within the reach of average men, their very existence within your home and mine, are for the most part the result of this great force we know by the name of advertising."

Lauds Advertising

Mr. Goldsborough listed three elements in the economic picture: production, distribution and selling. "Advertising, the essential ingredient of selling in a mass market, is the keystone of this triumvirate," he declared.

Good music and drama delivered to the public by radio or television would be impossible without advertising, he said. Advertising and (Continued on Page 2)

"WINNIE" HOPES TO VISIT HERE

Because of the pressure of business during his trip to Washington, British Prime Minister Winston Churchill was unable to visit Gettysburg, "but he hopes to do so at a later date."

That was the information received by the Associated Arts and Crafts Guild of Adams county in two letters from Churchill's secretary. Arts and Crafts Guild President John Byers presented the letter at the meeting of the group Tuesday evening at the art center on Lincoln Square. Byers had sent a telegram and a letter to Churchill issuing an open invitation for him to visit here as he did in 1932, to tour the "field, and promising a banquet after the tour. The two letters were received in response.

Miss Downing Reinecker, who was born in China, who came to the United States several years ago, and now is a sophomore at Gettysburg college, spoke on Chinese art and painting at Tuesday's session. She wore a Chinese style evening gown for the talk and displayed a mandarin coat more than a century old. Describing the painted scrolls of the Chinese, some as long as 33 feet, she said the scrolls are never hung on walls, but are viewed, a portion at a time, by rolling the scroll.

The next meeting will be held February 18.

Reds Agree To Supply Map Of Prisoner Of War Camps In New Agreement To Prevent Bombing

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 23 (AP)—Allied jets shot down two Communist MIG-15s over northwest Korea today, probably destroyed another and damaged a fourth.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said gun films showed that one Red plane listed earlier as a probable definitely was destroyed.

The Russian-type MIGs were out in force all day, but there was only one aerial battle. Allied pilots said the MIGs fled across the Yalu when the U. S. Sabre jets headed toward them.

Scattered fighting broke out all along the frozen 145-mile ground front. The heaviest engagement was on the central front where an ambushed Allied patrol fought a brief engagement with an unknown number of Reds in the early morning darkness.

Despite the lull in the ground fighting the U. S. Eighth Army said the Allies killed, wounded or captured 3,483 Reds in the last week. Total Communist casualties since the first of the year were put at 13,292.

38 Watch Battle

The swirling jet battle over Sinanju pitted 19 Sabre jets against 22 MIGs. About 38 other MIGs watched the fight.

Maj. Donald E. Adams of Mount Clemens, Mich., spotted one MIG all alone and picked off the Red aircraft with four machine gun bursts. The MIG went down trailing smoke and the pilot baled out.

As the MIG fell, Sabre pilots with blazing guns pounced on a formation of MIGs below them.

Maj. William E. Shaeffer of 209 S. Storey St., Boone, Ia., was credited with one of the probables.

The other went to Capt. William C. Knoy, 409 Cottonwood, Dodge City, Kansas. Knoy's probable later was changed to a confirmed kill.

Lt. Anthony Kulensog, Jr., of Catawissa, Pa., was credited with the damaged MIG.

Today Communist staff officers agreed to supply a map marked with the exact location of the 11 POW camps in North Korea. It also will show a camp where non-Korean civilians are interned.

Communists also agreed to mark these camps so they may be identified from the air. They refused to (Continued on Page 2)

COOPERATION IN SNOW REMOVAL HELD 'BEST YET'

Borough streets, particularly in the downtown business district, today showed little signs of the storm which on Tuesday deposited two inches of snow.

This was largely due to the work of state and borough snow removal equipment and men, and in this employees of the borough, working under the direction of Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, were facilitated by the two new snow removal ordinances adopted at a special meeting of borough council January 16.

The ordinance giving police authority to remove automobiles or trucks from the streets when they interfere with the work of plows or the snowplow was invoked only once, Burgess William G. Weaver said.

One Car Impounded

An automobile owned by a man employed in Mechanicsburg who parked his car in Lincoln Square prior to 7 a.m. Tuesday, and left it there most of the day, was the only one impounded. It was towed to the National garage.

A number of other car owners were located and asked to move their cars, the Burgess said.

No arrests were made for failure of property owners or tenants to shovel their sidewalks within the 12-hour limit set by another ordinance, the Burgess said, but a number of warnings were issued.

"Excellent Cooperation"

In general, the snow was removed faster and better than at any previous time in the history of the borough, according to authorities.

The intent of the law, borough officials said, was not to impound automobiles or arrest persons who do not clear their sidewalks, but to get automobiles off the streets when snow removal equipment was working and to have residents clean their sidewalks. The cooperation of the public was excellent, Burgess Weaver declared.

Automobiles, the Burgess said, will not be towed away, unless they are in violation of the parking meter ordinance or some other ordinance governing parking on the streets, and then only after an attempt has been made to locate the owners. A number of "tickets" were issued for overtime parking during the snow removal operations, he said.

LOCAL RESERVE UNIT GOING TO CAMP PICKETT

Company A, 313th Infantry, local Army Reserve unit, will attend summer training at Camp Pickett, Va., from June 14 to 18, according to information given the unit at its meeting in the American Legion building, Baltimore street, Tuesday evening.

Orders sent the commanding officer, Lt. Sebastian Hafer, from headquarters, Pennsylvania Military District, Indiantown Gap, state that attendance at summer camp will again be compulsory for Reservists this year.

Lieutenant Hafer urged employers to provide for military leave for their employees that they might attend the summer camp without losing pay and vacations. Since attendance is compulsory, failure to attend is considered as being AWOL from the army and punishment is giving accordingly.

Hafer pointed out that the Reservists are "performing a patriotic duty, of service to their country, in giving up their time for reserve training that they might be ready for service when needed. The manner in which Reservists were called for Korean duty and the way in which they plugged the line there is best proof of the value of their (Continued on Page 2)

Good Old Mule

Bunn, N. C., Jan. 23 (AP)—Boyd, the mule, had a bad night. Boyd tumbled 40 feet down a well last night into five feet of water.

For two and one-half hours an automobile wrecker strained on its cables trying to lift Boyd out. Finally the long-eared fellow was hoisted upside.

There the motionless form lay. Rescuers didn't bother to cover him up. They thought Boyd was dead.

"Best mule I got," commented G. B. Bell, Boyd's owner. "Don't have to say 'gee' or 'haw' to him. At the end of the row he just turns into the right row every time."

Boyd twitched, shivered, struggled to his feet. Then Boyd walked a mile to his stall.

RED CROSS AIDS 25 SERVICEMEN

The appointment of Mrs. Albert Bachman, former chapter chairman, as home service chairman for the Adams county chapter of the Red Cross was announced Tuesday evening at the January meeting of the board of directors.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pennington, executive secretary, told the board the chapter spent $145 in telegrams and $113 in long distance telephone calls that carried emergency messages between soldiers and their home folk during December through the chapter's home service division. Of the 48 cases handled last month, Mrs. Pennington said, 25 involved servicemen. The "around the clock" service given men in the armed forces and their families by the local Red Cross chapter involved emergency cash grants, also, Mrs. Pennington said. She added that some of the cash grants have been repaid.

The Red Cross through its home service work helps soldiers and families in times of such emergencies as serious illness, death or accident and supplies the armed forces, with facts in cases where emergency leaves are sought by servicemen.

Division chairman made regular reports with Blood Donor Chairman Radford H. Lippy describing a "quota plan" being offered county organizations and industries to supply a regular number of blood donors for monthly bloodmobile visits here. Chairman G. L. Hacin presided.

resultant mass production has brought down the price of goods. "Advertising budgets in the United States have more than doubled in the last ten years and have increased tenfold since the turn of the century," the speaker said. "The question is hardly do we have too many media. It may be because we have enough to meet the demands of a constantly growing and expanding economy."

A letter was read from the Gettysburg Recreation association inviting members of the Exchange club to join a men's volleyball class which will meet each Thursday at 5:30 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Election of officers will take place at the next meeting of the club January 29 at Banker's restaurant.

Price Boss Will Run For Senate

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle announced today he will quit as price boss to run for the United States Senate in Ohio.

DiSalle will seek the Democratic nomination, Senator Bricker, Republican, comes up for re-election this year.

DiSalle told a news conference the date he leaves the Office of Price Stabilization will be determined later. He said he might remain for some time, probably until President Truman names a successor.

DiSalle made the announcement after he had talked with President Truman at the White House for some 50 minutes in an early forenoon conference.

There had been reports that DiSalle might be offered another high post in the Truman administration. DiSalle himself had hinted it might be at the cabinet level.

Attorney General J. Howard McGrath also visited the White House while DiSalle was there. This gave rise to rumors that DiSalle might replace McGrath, or become associated with McGrath in the government's clean-up efforts.

Emmitsburg Driver In Frederick Crash

Damage which may reach $1,000 was reported to have occurred when one sedan skidded into another in front of 1608 North Market street, Frederick, about 10:47 a.m. Tuesday. The crash, Frederick police said, involved the cars operated by James Richard Kelly, Emmitsburg R. 1, and David L. Singer, Union Bridge. Singer told Sgt. Daniel Swomley, who investigated, that he was going north on Market when he saw the southbound sedan of Kelly start to skid. Singer said he pulled as far to the right as possible but Kelly's car crashed into the left of the Singer machine.

The impact squeezed the Singer car between the Kelly car and a power pole, splitting the latter about 15 feet up from the ground and temporarily putting at least one power line into a consumer's home out of service. Kelly's car was badly damaged about the front while the sedan of Singer was damaged on both sides. Both cars had to be towed from the scene.

Both drivers escaped injury. By a coincidence, after the crash, both cars were turned around in the opposite directions from which they had been coming. No charges were preferred.

Hanover Wallops Warriors 50-36; Jayvees Also Halted

A sharp looking Hanover high basketball team shattered whatever hopes the Gettysburg high Warriors had of gaining a tie for the first half title of the South Penn league here Tuesday night by administering a 50-36 drubbing to the locals.

The Nighthawks, sparked by Soapy Hart, who connected for 17 points, led from start to finish and were only seriously threatened briefly in the early minutes of the third quarter when the Warriors reduced the visitors' lead to 31-28 and again at 32-29.

Hanover and Chambersburg will now clash at Hanover Friday night with the first half championship going to the winner. If Tuesday's performance is any criterion, Hanover should be the champion.

Tuesday's game was marred somewhat by the whistle-toting of Officials Reider and Fellows who called a total of 51 personal fouls. However, the Warriors gained the most as they converted 20 of 26 shots while the Nighthawks made good on but 12 of 31.

Zone Defense Effective
Hanover's 1-3-1 zone defense was effective throughout. It kept the Warriors shooting a long range and also gave the invaders possession most of the time between the hoops.

The Nighthawks rushed off to a 6-0 lead on goals by Hart, Esaley, and Keeney before Jim Skinner landed a layup. Long shots by Jack Bream and Fisel pared Hanover's margin late in the round but goals by Keeney and Reese hiked the visitors' lead to 16-11 at the quarter.

Hart and Lookenbill kept Hanover in front during the second period by accounting for five goals while the Warriors got twin-pointers on shots by Bream, Skinner and Bill Williams and six points via fouls. At the half Hanover led 29-22.

After Lookenbill opened the third period with a Hanover goal Gettysburg rallied and threatened to make it a game. Bream netted a foul, dribbled through for a goal and then converted two more charity tosses. Another foul by Bob Hixon cut the lead to 31-28. Keeney and Hixon exchanged free tosses but the Hawks spurred on goals by Hart and a pair by Strimmel to lead 39-30 at the quarter.

The last round was consumed almost entirely by foul shooting. Hanover getting but two goals and the Warriors one by Harriel. Both coaches cleared their benches in the late minutes as the outcome was definitely settled.

Bream gave the outstanding performance for the Warriors and also topped the scoring with 10 points. Fisel, the Gettysburg scoring threat, was well bottled up and was permitted but four points.

Scrubs' Streak Snapped
As a foreboding of things to come, the Jayvees put up their poorest exhibition of the season and took a 36-20 lacing in the preliminary game. The defeat halted a five-game winning streak and enabled Hanover to gain a tie in the first half race. Gettysburg failed to get a field goal until a minute and 20 seconds had elapsed in the third quarter.

The Warriors will conclude the first half schedule at Mechanicsburg Friday night.

Chicago, Jan. 23 (P)—The Chicago White Sox, who set a home attendance record of 1,328,234 fans last season, will not boost admission prices in 1952 although given permission by the government to do so. Both the Sox and Chicago Cubs were authorized a 50-cent hike on box seats to $2.50 and a 25-cent raise on general admission to $1.25 by the Office of Price Stabilization.

While General Manager Frank Lane said the Sox would not hike prices, the Cubs so far remain undecided.

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Corky Gonzales and Gene Smith, a couple of up and coming featherweights, risk their impressive strings of victories against one another tonight.

The 10-round boxing bout at Uline arena will be televised and broadcast (at 10 p.m., Eastern Standard Time) by the Columbia Broadcasting system.

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—Tommy Ryan, whose license to manage fighters in New York state already has been revoked for life, today is awaiting trial on charges of assault growing out of the dressing room fracas which followed the Ernie Durando-Rocky Castellani fight on January 11.

Along with Ryan, his brother, Patsy Eboli, was arrested yesterday as a result of two informations returned by a New York county grand jury which investigated the disturbance. Trial was set for February 6. Ryan was charged with trying to beat Referee Ray Miller and striking matchmaker Al Weill. Eboli was charged with assaulting Weill.

Wilmingon, Del., Jan. 23 (P)—Major league baseball has ceased to be a millionaire's plaything, owner Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies told a group of Boston writers yesterday.

The Scribes are making a transcontinental aerial tour to get first hand information on 18 of the Boston Braves outstanding rookies. They met outfielder Jack Daniels here.

"The days when baseball can recruit owners from the millionaire ranks are over," the tremendously wealthy Carpenter said. "You've got to make money in baseball or you can't operate."

Philadelphia, Jan. 23 (P)—Veteran Hank Majeski and Rookie Lou Limmer have signed 1952 contracts with the Philadelphia Athletics.

General Manager Art Ehlers said yesterday that six A's players now have signed for the coming season. Pitchers Carl Scheib, Dick Fowler, Roland Hoyle, and Joe Murray inked their pacts earlier this week. Majeski played 101 games last season. Limmer spelled Ferris Fair at first base.

WALCOTT READY TO SIGN PAPERS FOR TITLE FIGHT

By ED CORRIGAN

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—The pinners that have been tightening on heavy weight champion Jersey Joe Walcott for the past 24 hours today had the ancient New Jersey battler ready to give up his lucrative exhibition tour and sign for a defense of his title.

But Jersey Joe, who probably will climb in the ring against Ezzard Charles whose crown he lifted last July 18, had one ally—Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing club, which has a contract with the champion.

When Norris heard that Bob Christenberry, the new chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, had ordered Walcott to defend his title within 15 days or have it vacated in New York, the IBC president said:

"I had thought it was understood that Walcott was to be given the chance to make the most of the financial opportunities he has as champion before being required to defend."

But Christenberry obviously didn't see it that way. Originally, Walcott signed to defend his championship 90 days from July 18 and against Charles. That went by the boards though, when Walcott began cashing in on the crown.

Now Christenberry apparently has decided the time has come to act. He also bypassed Rocky Marciano (winner over Joe Louis) and Harry Matthews of Seattle.

Charles Heads List

"As far as the New York Athletic commission is concerned," said Christenberry, "Ezzard Charles is the No. 1 challenger. We have nothing before us from Marciano, and I refuse to consider Matthews a contender for the heavyweight title."

Rumors have been making the rounds that Felix Boockichio, Walcott's manager, would prefer Marciano to Charles. However, Marciano said he doesn't want to fight for the title unless Charles waives his right.

Norris couldn't contact Boockichio, but Jersey Joe's manager issued a statement saying: "We may decide to sign for three bouts within 15 days, probably a first bout with Matthews on the west coast and a title defense in June. We have a verbal agreement, made under duress, to defend against Charles. We will take one tuneup fight, preferably against Matthews, and I look with favor on signing for a title bout with either Marciano or Charles."

Sen. Kefauver May Enter Race Today

Washington, Jan. 23 (P)—Politicians here look for Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee to flip his coonskin campaign cap into the ring today in a formal bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The lanky one-time chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating committee scheduled a news conference for 3 p.m. (EST) and said nothing in advance to knock down reports he would announce his candidacy.

"I definitely am going to disclose my intentions," Kefauver told a reporter.

Supporters already have entered Kefauver's name in the April 8 Illinois presidential primary, where Senator Brian McMahon, Connecticut Democrat, also will be a contestant.

Harrisburg, Jan. 23 (P)—Boosters of Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur as candidate for the Republican nomination for President are determined to get his name on the ballot in Pennsylvania's GOP primary election April 22.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 23 (P)—While assorted boxing commissions are cracking down on Jersey Joe Walcott for failing to defend his title, NBA Commissioner Abe Greene points out logically that the "peculiar importance" of the heavyweight championship is reason for being lenient with Joe... Abe has historical background for this thought, going back at least to Jack Dempsey's time... If a heavyweight champ knocks over all comers, there's talk of the "bum of the month club." If he waits until one outstanding challenger appears, he's criticized for not fighting... May be any one of three or four contenders could lick Walcott; but if a six-months rule is applied to title defenses, why not make it go for challengers, too? ... Instead of letting managers maneuver for the title shot, give them six months to fight it out among themselves and then call for a showdown between the survivor and the champ.

OBSTACLE RACE

The University of California had its best pole vault prospect in history when lanky Larry Anderson enrolled last fall... At Glendale high the kid had vaulted 13-feet-2 and he appeared a class to stop Olympic Champion Guifin Smith's university mark... But Larry started studying chemistry and a home-made bomb exploded in his hands... Surgeons had to remove two fingers and part of a third from his right hand and the index finger from his left... Discouraged, well maybe, but as soon as the wounds healed, Larry started working out with a vaulting pole. He cleared 10-6 the other day and who'll say he won't learn to hold the pole so he can reach the heights again?

DOTS ALL BROTHERS

Because of the new salary ruling, the Dodgers have asked all unsigned players to return their contracts. But they won't try to change any documents already signed. Eddie White, manager-coach of the Wilkes-Barre, Pa. club in the American pro basketball league, also guards the city's funds as city controller... Would you say White keeps Wilkes-Barre out of the red?

John S. Fisher Takes Oath as 30th Governor: (By Associated Press) Harrisburg, Jan. 18 — John S. Fisher, of Indiana, became the governor of Pennsylvania today when the oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Robert Von Moschizsker of the state supreme court.

Before a crowd which packed all the space near the great stand erected in front of the capitol, Gifford Pinchot laid down the mantle of office and John S. Fisher took it up at 12:04 o'clock.

As the party proceeded toward the speaker's stand, Battery A of the Pennsylvania guard boomed the governor's salute of 17 guns while a fleet of airplanes droned overhead.

The temperature was rather warm, rendering the furs and heavy wraps of visitors uncomfortable.

New Troop of Scouts Formed: Scouts of Troop 2, newly organized scout troop, held their second reorganization meeting Tuesday evening at the headquarters of Troop 3 in the Weaver building.

Raymond Shetter is scoutmaster and has been instrumental in the organization of the new troop. Troop 3, of which Clyde Bream is the scoutmaster, is sponsoring the new troop.

The boys already enrolled are Clarence Sadler, Donald Sheely, Edward Hughes, Samuel Ziegler, Thomas Ziegler, Harry Mumper, "Bud" Deardorff, Burn Zinn, Eldon Oyler, William Bagot, Robert Stutz, Robert Shealer and John Brady.

$700 Net Returns from Seal Sales: The sale of Christmas seals in Gettysburg and Adams county over the 1952 holiday season will net the Adams County Tuberculosis Society more than $700 on the basis of almost complete returns received at the office of Mrs. Laura B. Fissel, secretary-treasurer of the organization. This amount is $26 more than the 1952 drive netted.

R. J. Funkhouser Again to Head Surefoot Heel: R. J. Funkhouser, of Hagerstown, was re-elected president of the Sure Foot Heel and Rubber company here at a meeting of stockholders Tuesday morning. Other officers and directors were elected as follows:

Roy P. Funkhouser, vice president and general manager in charge of operations; J. B. Reynolds, Hagerstown, secretary-treasurer, and S. P. Snyder, Gettysburg, and H. H. Jennings, Hagerstown, directors.

In announcing the resignation, Mr. Leathers said he planned to devote his time and efforts to his duties as senior master at Gettysburg Academy, where he has been teaching since 1916.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ONLY BELIEVE

Belief is a wonderful staff upon which to lean. And if you look upon that staff as God, you have no fear. It will never let you down. Only believe and success and happiness will come to you in a measure that will uplift and inspire you, no matter what you do or where you may be, so long as your objective is noble and of benefit to some one.

Inventors, scientists, pioneers, and great leaders are those who believe and carry that belief deeply within their minds and hearts. Every route in life has its rugged roads. Those are the ones that challenge our courage and our faith. And if we have this courage and faith just for the day at hand, we need ask for nothing else, for every following day will have become impregnated with the power, beauty, and triumph of what you do today.

Only believe and your world will keep enlarging, and your opportunities for usefulness will keep increasing. People of little faith live little lives. They are crowded out of the way by those whose faith is strong. During these anxious days, when there is so much fear in the world and people wonder as to what another day may bring forth, just to hope and to believe may make all the difference!

Before Socrates, and since, the world has been spread with evil tidings and forebodings, and we have seen the light of better days. History writes the names of the brave of faith in golden letters, so as to inspire those of smaller faith. We all need constantly to reach out that we may grasp the potential, that we may somehow discover the power that is within us, and then distribute it far and wide.

Only believe. How full of this precious substance of faith the naturalist is! He is in constant communication with the creative forces of the universe. Edwin Way Teale, in his beautiful book, "North with the Spring," speaks of the thousands of warblers he encountered near Asheville, N. C., as the "rainbow bird of Spring." Even the birds have a divine faith that takes them to their favorite abodes as the seasons change! Are we less than they?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Prayers and Courage."

Just Folks

THE UCHIN

He was stubby nosed and freckled, with a mope of tousled hair.

If you hadn't heard him whistle you might not have seen him there.

He was under ten—or over by a little—just a lad!

And you'd pass him without guessing all the power for good he had.

As my mother used to say it, he was far from "fit to see."

His pants and shirt had parted, which, of course, should never be.

All the womenfolk would notice that he hadn't washed his ears.

But the man that's in the making never very plain appears.

He was just a little fellow on the corner of a street.

There are countless boys just like him from their foreheads to their feet.

We may think of them as urchins, but within them is the seed of the courage and the greatness which the world will some day need.

IKE'S PROPOSAL FOR CONVENTION TO UNITE EUROPE IS APPLAUDED

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's proposal for a constitutional convention to unify Europe drew applause today from Republicans and Democrats—including other potential presidential candidates.

The statement from Supreme Headquarters Allied Forces in Europe (SHAPE) got avid attention from lawmakers and politicians.

It was Eisenhower's first public statement since his dramatic announcement that he would accept the Republican presidential nomination but would not campaign for it.

The politically-minded asked if it would be a pattern for other Eisenhower statements. Some wondered if it had been cleared with President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson.

"Ike's" Statement

Senators of both parties said they agreed with General Eisenhower. He said:

1. Russia may plan a global war eventually but right now could not win at a single stroke.

2. The mere call for a European unity convention "would mean a lot in the United States," which can not alone bear the entire burden of the North Atlantic treaty.

3. Long-term defensive security in Europe "can not gain strength and stability if it (Europe) is to remain split up in a number of independent enclaves."

Lauded By Senators

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.), expected to announce his formal entry into the Democratic presidential race today, said the Eisenhower proposal is "a splendid step in the right direction."

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), who has entered the Illinois Democratic presidential primary against Kefauver, agreed that European unity "isn't just desirable; it is imperative if Europe is going to be able to handle her own defense in a few years."

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.), ranking GOP member of the Foreign Relations committee, said "Ike's move is splendid and in the right direction." Wiley added the next move is up to the Europeans.

2 Pennsylvanians In Crashed Plane's Crew

Elizabeth, N. J., Jan. 23 (AP) — There were two Pennsylvanians crew members on the American Airlines plane that crashed into a group of buildings here yesterday.

One was the co-pilot of the twin-engine airliner, Lawrence (Bud) Samuel Iudicello, 30, of 242 East Wilkes-Barre street, Easton, Pa. An air force captain in World War Two, Iudicello received the air medal with a cluster for his service in the Mediterranean area. His wife, Ethel, and her child by a former marriage, live at the Easton address. Iudicello's parents are dead.

The other Pennsylvanian was the stewardess, Miss Marilyn Ruth Siegle, 21, of Darby, Pa., near Philadelphia. She started with the airline last June. Miss Siegle attended Springfield high school in Delaware county, Pa., and was voted the prettiest girl in her class in 1948. She had modeled for posters to be used in airline advertising.

Washington, Jan. 23 (AP) — President Truman has asked Congress to give the Interior Department powerful enough laws to enforce safety in coal mines since, he said, most states have failed to protect miners' lives.

"The evidence is clear," he said, "that the state governments, taken as a group, have not done enough and are not now doing enough to assure this country against disasters in our coal mines."

New York, Jan. 23 (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill left for home aboard the liner Queen Mary early this morning after 18 days in the United States and Canada. The 77-year-old British statesman puffed a cigar and waved breezily to several hundred persons who came to see him off. They included financier Bernard Baruch; Churchill's actress-daughter, Sarah, and city representatives.

Gettysburg National Appointments: L. L. Taylor was re-elected president of the Gettysburg National bank. He was first named to the presidency in January, 1950. Other officers and clerks were named as follows:

E. P. Miller, first vice president; C. J. Toot, second vice president; C. W. Johnson, secretary; J. Donald Swope and J. L. Williams, attorneys; C. W. Stock, cashier; Charles W. Ogden, assistant cashier and receiving teller; I. Willis Applier, assistant cashier and paying teller; E. M. Bender, trust officer; Wimbirt Neely, discount clerk; John W. Hewitt, teller and in charge of the Gettysburg college department; J. W. Kendeheart and Howard A. Knouse, bookkeepers; Miss Ellen Tipton, secretary to the president; Misses Anna Ziegler and Elizabeth Evans, clerks.

THIRD OF ADAMS FARMLAND USED TO PRODUCE HAY

Nearly one-third of the farmland in Adams county is used to raise hay according to the report of the state department of agriculture.

The report for 1950 released recently by the department lists 44,660 acres in all as devoted to the production of hay, the largest acreage devoted to any one crop. The 1950 census figures list the cropland acreage in the county as 136,532. While there are 252,925 acres in farms in the county, 14,335 are used by homes, other buildings and roads, 18,213 acres are devoted to cropland not used for crops, 32,783 acres are given over to woodland and the remainder is divided into various other uses than for actual crop production.

According to the department figures, the 1950 yield of hay in the county averaged 1.46 tons per acre, as compared to 1.48 tons per acre in the state and 1.41 tons per acre U. S. average. Adams countians produced 65,200 tons of hay in 1950, which, valued at $24.70 per ton, had a total value of $1,610,440.

Small Grains Report

The statement of a century ago, that Adams was a "poor buckwheat county" seemed born out in 1950. Only 50 acres were devoted to the basic element in buckwheat cakes, and from them 920 bushels were produced, bringing in $960 at an average of $1.04 per bushel or one cent under the state average and four cents under the U. S. average. Crawford county was the big buckwheat producer in the state, with its 12,680 acres producing 247,260 bushels.

Oats and barley were quarter of a million dollar crops in Adams in 1950. The 269,370 bushels of oats produced on 7,300 acres in the county at 85 cents per bushel brought in $231,660. The county's average of 36.9 bushels per acre was less than the state average of 38 bushels of oats per acre, and better than the U. S. average of 34.9 cents. The 86 cent price in Adams was a penny better than the state average price and more than eight cents better than the average nationally.

Adams farmers in 1950 put 7,110 acres to barley, got a yield of 224 bushels per acre, or 237,470 bushels, and received $102 per bushel, or $242,220 for their crop. While Adams county farmers got the best price for barley in the south central section comprising Adams, Bedford, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton and York counties, they still got less than the $1.05 per bushel Pennsylvania average or the $1.13 per bushel national average.

150 Acres In Rye

Rye was a small crop, with the 150 Adams county acres devoted to it in 1950 producing 14.6 bushels per acre (as compared to 15.5 state average and 12.6 national average) for a total of 2,190 bushels, which at $1.22 per bushel (the state average was $1.40 and national, $1.26) brought in $2,670.

Potatoes were a fair crop, but did not compare with the county's more than a million dollar hay crop. Only 540 acres were devoted to potatoes, producing 179 bushels per acre, as compared to 195 bushels per acre state average and 237.9 bushels average nationally. The total production was 96,660 bushels which at $1.20 per bushel gave a value of $115,870.

But Adams farmers received a good price for their potatoes, judging by state averages of $1.05 per bushel and national average of 97.9 cents.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23 (AP) — Edwin O. Husbands, 44, was acquitted yesterday in the killing of Sgt. William Jagloski, 34, of Williamsport, Pa. A criminal court jury deliberated two hours before bringing in the decision. Jagloski was shot during a disturbance in Husbands' cafe last June and died 10 days later. Husbands was tried on a charge of second degree murder.

Nation's Top Milk Producer Is Retired

"Penstate Veeman Josie," the nation's leading milk-producing cow, has been officially retired at the Pennsylvania State college. In announcing the retirement from the herd of Josie, Dr. D. V. Josephson, head of the dairy department, called attention to the fact that on January 7, Josie marked her 19th birthday, an unusually old age for milk cows.

When Josie was removed from the Holstein production line, she had officially produced 257,251 pounds of milk that included 8,166.2 pounds of butterfat. "Josie" had held the nation's top-ranking position for several years. In addition, Josie, her daughter, "Penstate Veeman Happy," and her granddaughter, "Penstate Burke Happy," constitute the nation's highest producing three-generation trio, an honor held over an even longer period.

Dr. Josephson pointed out that more than 50 female descendants of Josie—six generations—are being kept in the college purebred Holstein herd. Josie has the ability to transmit to her offspring the high-producing characteristics which helped make her the No. 1 cow of the nation.

A special stall is being prepared for Josie in the new barns being built at Penn State for the college's five dairy herds. Dr. Josephson indicated, meanwhile, she began her "retirement" in the dairy department's hospital barn on a routine little different from her lengthy service in the college dairy production line.

FARM CALENDAR

Keep Mulch in Place — Use fallen branches of trees to prevent loose mulch material from blowing away. You might cut up the old Christmas tree for this purpose, suggests A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturist of the Pennsylvania State college, or you may lay pieces of boards or bean poles on the loose mulch.

Ventilate Dairy Barns — If your dairy barn is warm, damp, and heavy with stable odors, it needs a ventilation system, according to Joseph McGurdy, extension agricultural engineer of the Pennsylvania State college. He recommends an electric exhaust fan system which will give automatic trouble-free service throughout the ventilating season.

Use Automatic Feeder — The automatic poultry feeder, developed at the Pennsylvania State College Agricultural Experiment station, is stirring up a lot of interest among poultrymen of the state. The interest is greatest among broiler growers, but some producers are using the automatic feeder for laying pens.

Save Liquid Manure — Penn State extension agronomists say that over half the nitrogen and about three-fourths of the potash are contained in the liquid manure. They suggest soaking it up in plenty of absorbent bedding, such as shredded corn fodder or chopped straw.

Reduce Chore Time — With dairy cattle stabled for the winter, there is a lot of work to do. Clyde Hall, Penn State extension dairy specialist, believes a lot of time and walking could be saved by planning the jobs and using labor-saving devices wherever possible.

New Circular Available — A new circular on Fruit Varieties for Pennsylvania published by the Pennsylvania State college agricultural extension service is available from your county agricultural agent.

Improve Grassland — Plan to improve your pastures and grow better roughage this year, urge Penn State extension agronomists. These may not give you much extra return in 1952, but over the next few years they will help to cut costs and increase returns in milk, beef, pork, lamb, poultry, and eggs.

Order Farm Supplies — Some farm supplies are short. Penn State extension farm management specialists suggest listing fertilizer, repair parts, seeds, and other items needed for the year. Order now and take delivery on everything you can store. Do not get more than you need or you may cut some other farmer out of his supply.

Get Garden Seeds — When the garden seed catalogs come in the mail, it is not too early to order. Robert Fletcher, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, says that if you had especially good results with the seeds planted last year, then repeat that order giving the stock number of the variety or strain.

Save Labor Costs — It pays to save labor on a poultry farm. F. H. Leuschner, Penn State extension poultry specialist, says that one-fifth of the cost of producing eggs is labor, and one-twentieth of the cost of producing a broiler is labor.

Practice Safety — Make 1952 a safe year. Penn State extension agricultural engineers urge checking the farm and farm home to locate and remove hazards. Do not let young children operate or ride upon farm machinery, and keep shields and guards in place on machines.

Start Bulbs — A small sash frame is an excellent place to start such bulbs as tulips, daffodils, narcissi, hyacinths, and similar flowers, says A. O. Rasmussen, Penn State extension ornamental horticulturist.

Police Officers May Sleep At Home

Philadelphia, Jan. 23 (AP) — Philadelphia's new police commissioner has freed the city's 43 police captains and inspectors from an ancient bondage by ruling they can go home to sleep every night.

Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons yesterday threw out an archaic ruling that the police commanders had to sleep in their station-houses between midnight and 8 a.m.

With the invention of the telephone, the radio and the auto the officers will be easily accessible even if sleeping at home, he observed.

Furthermore, the commissioner ordered all beds removed from police offices.

Judge Lays Down The Law, And Follows It

Los Angeles, Jan. 23 (AP) — Superior Judge Allen W. Ashburn not only lays down the law. He follows it.

The judge, who often fines attorneys for being late to court, had warned a jury yesterday to be back from recess promptly. Judge Ashburn showed up two and one-half minutes late.

One juror suggested that he had heard the standard fine was a dollar a minute.

"In the court's case, it's double," the judge said—and fined himself five dollars.

BAYUK BUYS WEBSTER

Philadelphia, Jan. 23 (AP) — The Bayuk Cigar Co., Inc., has signed an agreement to buy the principal assets of the Webster Tobacco Co. The agreement was announced yesterday in a joint statement by Harry P. Wurman, president of Bayuk, and Everett Myers, head of Webster. Wurman said the assets involved Webster's principal brands, the firm's inventories and machinery. Wurman said Bayuk will continue to manufacture the Webster brands, using Webster plants at York and Lancaster, Pa., which will be leased.

JURY CONVICTS U. S. COLLECTOR OF BRIBE COUNTS

Boston, Jan. 23 (AP)—A federal jury last night convicted Denis W. Delaney, ousted Massachusetts collector of internal revenue, on charges he accepted $7,500 in bribes and falsely certified payment of $180,000 in tax liens.

The jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated nine hours and 15 minutes before returning a verdict that Delaney was guilty of all six counts of two indictments.

Judge Charles E. Wyzanski, Jr., allowed Delaney to remain free in $2,500 pending his sentencing some time next week.

The 55-year-old Delaney faces maximum penalties of 18 years' imprisonment and fines of $37,500 and minimum penalties of six months' imprisonment.

Appeal Is Uncertain
His attorney, C. Keefe Hurley, said after the verdict he didn't know definitely whether an appeal would be made. "I assume," he said, "there will be an appeal."

Delaney didn't speak, when reporters sought to question him as he heard the verdict. Instead, he waved them toward his attorney.

The trial lasted 13 days and there were only 13 spectators—aside from reporters and officials—when the verdict was returned.

On the first count of the bribery indictment Delaney was found guilty of accepting $2,500, on April 26, 1949, from Daniel Friedman, New York insurance man, to influence his action on taxes owed by Maxwell Shapiro and the Maxwell Shapiro Woolen Co. of Boston.

On the second count, he was convicted of taking another $2,500 bribe, on May 26, 1949, from Friedman in connection with the same case.

On the third count the jury found he took a $2,500 bribe on August 11, 1949, also from Friedman in connection with taxes owed by the Massachusetts Steel Treating Corp. of Worcester.

Judge Wyzanski delayed sentencing until a probation report is prepared.

MONEY UNCLAIMED

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 23 (AP)—A cache of $3,200 found by a caretaker near Wilkes-Barre armory last month has been turned over to Luzerne county because no one would claim the money. President Judge W. A. Valentine ordered it delivered into the county's hands. The caretaker, William E. Douglas, found the money buried near a tree on the armory grounds, December 3. Thinking the mysterious package might have contained a bomb, Douglas turned it over to state police.

The twister whirled through Poplar Arbor community, 15 miles from Moultrie, in south Georgia not far from the Florida line. Among the buildings demolished was a Congregational church.

MIAMI CRASH FATAL TO FIVE

Miami, Fla., Jan. 23 (AP)—A privately-owned Lockheed Lodestar crashed and burned at Miami International airport late yesterday and killed all five men aboard.

The plane belonged to Aerodex, Inc., a plane overhaul and maintenance firm with headquarters at the airport. All the victims worked for the company.

The plane, piloted by Benjamin Terry, 52-year-old vice president of the firm, took off from the 20th street side of the sprawling air field and lost altitude when its right engine failed. Terry attempted to bring the ship in and cashed near the taxi runway on the 36th street side.

Port Director A. B. Curry said evidence indicated that Terry may have sacrificed his life and those of his passengers in a desperate gamble to avoid hitting two big transport planes that were loading at the busy terminal.

The other victims, all from the Miami area, were identified as Halsey R. (Hal) Bazley, about 55; Ross Baird, Herbert K. Fritzsche and Frederick H. Eberle. Both Bazley and Terry were active in Pennsylvania aviation circles during the late 1930s. Bazley, once personal pilot for former Pennsylvania Governor George H. Earle, served on the Pennsylvania Board of Aeronautics.

He was a founder of All-American Airways, Inc., which began mail pickup service in the Harrisburg, Pa., area using the Harrisburg airport as a terminal. He was a vice president of the company until resigning about a year ago.

Easton, Pa., Jan. 23 (AP)—An automobile ran off the road in a driving rainstorm near here last night and crashed into a concrete abutment, killing Charles Lock, 32, of Belvidere, N. J. HERE'S THE DOPE ON SPRING HATS

Paris, Jan. 23 (AP)—Your new spring bonnet—if it's Paris-inspired—may be made of cellophane or woodshavings, glamorous gold straw or rustic broomstraw.

Where trimmings are concerned, you can let your fancy be your guide, but one thing is certain: The chic chapeau must sit well forward and hug the head for a flat-topped look. That's what Paris has decreed.

"That hat," as it has emerged from collection after collection, is something between a guileless bonnet and a Spanish bull-fighter's montera. A much-modified breton sailor takes second-place honors, and in the big hat range round cart-wheels have given way to wide ellipses. The emphasis is on width

GMC PRESENTS THE FIRST 2½-TON DIESEL

At last—Diesel economy and hill-leveling performance come to thousands of truckers who have never had any choice but gasoline power in the past!

TODAY America's foremost builder of Diesel trucks smashes the size-weight barrier that up to now has denied the many economies of Diesel power to haulers of medium-weight loads.

Today GMC offers users of equipment in the 19,500 GVW to 35,000 GVW range a sensational new Diesel truck-tractor.

It is powered by the first welterweight Diesel truck engine—a smaller, more compact model of the famous General Motors 2-cycle engine that has made GMC America's first-choice Diesel truck.

More Miles per Gallon

Because it is Diesel-powered, this new GMC Model D450-37 will cost you far less to run per mile, far less to maintain per year than any other 2½-tonner you've ever owned. All Diesel experience proves that.

Because it is a 2-cycle Diesel, it is a fast-starting, quick-accelerating, highly responsive truck with plenty of snap in traffic—a truck that will maintain a steady "on time" schedule even on hilly runs.

Fuel economy is automatic thanks to

GMC's famous Fuel Modulator. Regardless of throttle pressure this engine never gets more fuel than it needs and makes the most of what it gets. Smooth driving is assured by "easy-turn" recirculating ball-bearing steering—even electric shifting on two-speed axle models.

Nationwide Service

Equally important to the thousands of truckers who can now enjoy the benefits of Diesel power for the first time, this new GMC D450-37 is backed by the nation's largest network of Diesel service stations.

Before you buy another truck, you owe it to yourself to investigate these new GMC welterweight Diesels if you want to cut costs! We will be glad to give you facts and figures that will open your eyes. Why not come in today?

RAISE TIN PRICE
Washington, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation Tuesday raised the price of tin to American industry from $1.63 a pound to $1.21 1/2. The old price had been in effect since August 1. The REC was given a monopoly over tin in the United States last year in an effort to bring down prices, which began to skyrocket when the Korean war broke out.

Says School Bus Driver Whipped Boy

Indianapolis, Jan. 23—A farmer complained that a school bus driver whipped his son and a state investigation has been promised.

Harold Upton, who has a farm near Martinsville, Ind., protested on Monday that a whipping January 9 by Arnold Long, 49-year-old bus driver, left red welts on the body of his 12-year-old son, David.

Wilbur Young, state superintendent of Public Instruction, told the father the complaint would be investigated.

The driver said he punished both David and his 13-year-old brother, James, for elbowing other pupils and fighting on his bus. He asserted the blows from "a long, slim hickory wither" were "not hard at all." Both James Bourn, Morgan county superintendent of schools, and Rocco Bothwell, the township trustee who hired Long, defended the whippings as "justified action."

No Settlement In Prudential Strike

Newark, N. J., Jan. 23 (AP)—Top-level Prudential Insurance Co. executives met with counsel for striking district agents on Monday but no settlement of the 53-day walkout was reached, the company announced Tuesday.

A Prudential spokesman said the secrecy-shrouded meeting was attended by Prudential Executive Vice President Harold M. Stewart and General Counsel Sylvester C. Smith, Jr., and Walter Collieran, attorney for the striking workers, and AFL General Counsel Herbert C. Thatcher.

He said the session lasted until 11:15 Monday night at the Hotel Roosevelt, New York city, and added that "during the meeting several possible approaches to a solution were explored but no conclusions were reached."

There was no word on the session from the AFL Insurance Agents International union.

State To Charge Admission To Shrines

Harrisburg, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Commonwealth will charge admission to many of its historic landmarks this summer for the first time.

Dr. Donald A. Cadzow, executive director of the Pennsylvania Museum Historical and Museum commission, said the move is being made to put the landmarks on a "self-sustaining" basis. The admission schedule has not yet been worked out, Cadzow said. He added that a charge of 25 or 50 cents is being considered.

In the past, the only state property at which a fee has been charged was the Ephrata Cloister near Lancaster where a 25-cent admission was imposed under a special state law.

Cadzow said, however, that the 1951 Legislature passed a law granting the commission approval to impose admission charges wherever it sees fit and to set up a revolving fund with the revenues. "The idea is that the commission be given an opportunity to collect enough funds to be self-sustaining," Cadzow explained. He said the General Assembly was compelled to appropriate about $300,000 in the last fiscal period for the upkeep of state historical properties.

The Cubs are also asked to bring along any articles which they made during the last year to be inspected for the window display to be arranged in conjunction with National Boy Scout Week to be observed next month.

SEND APOLOGIES TO MRS. RYTTING

New York, Jan. 23 (AP)—The U. S. Olympic Ski committee is drafting a letter of apology to Mrs. Suzy Harris Rytting who was sent home from Grindelwald, Switzerland, last week because she is pregnant. Mrs. Rytting is regarded as the beauty queen of the U. S. Women's Olympic Ski team.

Courtney T. Hill, chairman of the committee, termed the incident "regrettable" in announcing that the letter of apology will be sent to Mrs. Rytting at her home in Salt Lake City.

Hill, in New York enroute to Europe, said he would look into the matter further when he arrives overseas. He added that Mrs. Rytting's Olympic uniforms would be returned to her. "I don't know why they were taken," he said.

In Salt Lake City Mrs. Rytting said she came home "almost in disgrace" because the committee was afraid someone would learn of my condition and raise a fuss.

"I don't mind missing the Olympics too much," she told John Moore, sports editor of the Salt Lake City Tribune, "but I certainly think I was treated rather shabbily. I wouldn't have minded being sent home, even though doctors in Europe and in Salt Lake City said I could have skied. But I think I should have been sent home and treated as if I'd have been a skier who had broken a leg in practice."

Mrs. Rytting said that she had asked to remain in Europe until her mother or her husband, Bill, could have joined her and accompanied her home, but was told by American team officials she had to leave immediately.

Hermit's Secret Is Out: He's Just Scared

Detroit, Jan. 23 (AP)—The hermit's secret is out. He's scared.

For two years now Adam Kujak has been living in a packing box shelter in a desolate stretch of woods on the outskirts of Detroit. The 70-year-old recluse has scooped out a shallow trench. He sleeps in a bed of rags and paper. A fire in front of the shelter keeps him warm.

Sometimes he watches the sky with a frightened look. Most of the time he watches the fire.

Yesterday someone thought to ask him why. The bearded, broad-shouldered figure answered in monosyllables: "War come, bomb. Noise, afraid. Safe here. Maybe."

Following the accident, Mrs. Byers was treated at the Warner hospital, Gettysburg, after which she returned to her home.

The Evangelism committee of St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, will meet this evening, 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Alvin G. Duttrier, Jr., that place, to make plans for the evangelistic services to be held May 26 to June 1, in St. Mary's church.

Refuse New Trial To Convicted Soldiers

Harrisburg, Jan. 23 (AP)—Dauphin county court has denied a new trial to three Indian troops Gap soldiers convicted of attacking an 18-year-old girl from nearby Penbrook in an automobile last July 30.

Judge William H. Neely said in an opinion that the record had been "carefully reviewed" and that no error in the trial had been found. The soldiers, awaiting sentence, are Cpl. Thomas F. Jackson, Plasterco, Va.; Pvt. David A. Barnd, Findlay, O.; and Pvt. Richard L. Goff, Van Buren, O.

Defense attorneys for the three men contended that the girl was a willing partner in the alleged attack.

Neely said he believed the charge to the jury was "eminently fair" and that he could find "no right to disturb the verdict."

Says Rural Churches Not "Keeping Pace"

Harrisburg, Jan. 23 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Council of Churches was told here that although rural churches are growing they are not keeping pace with population growth.

Reporting on a Pennsylvania State college study of rural churches the Rev. Lauris B. Whitman, of State College, said that such churches are "too far removed" from community life around them. Some 92 percent of rural churches in the area surveyed, he said, did not allow their facilities to be used by community organizations.

The report, compiled on the basis of a study made in York, Lycoming, Indiana and Juniata counties, was delivered to the council at the closing session last night of its annual two-day parley.

Delegates also passed resolutions protesting universal military training and the appointment of a U.S. ambassador to the Vatican.

WEATHER WARNING

Philadelphia, Jan. 23 (AP)—The weather bureau this morning issued the following special warning for the state of Pennsylvania: Cold wave and windy with snow flurries tonight. Lowest 0-10 above in west and 5-15 above in east portion.

British Rout Egyptian Families From Homes

Ismailia, Egypt, Jan. 23 (AP)—British troops routed hundreds of Egyptian families from their homes in Ismailia's tense Arab sector Tuesday. While the operation was under way, an American nun, slain during British-Egyptian violence, was buried in a nearby British military cemetery.

A British military court will hold a closed inquiry tomorrow into the death of Sister Anthony, to determine whether she was killed by Egyptian snipers who invaded a convent garden, or by a stray British bullet.

Lamar Mulliner, U.S. consul in Cairo who is conducting an on the spot investigation into the nun's slaying, attended the requiem mass which preceded the burial.

After the funeral Mulliner returned to Cairo, where he reported to the U.S. embassy that "since no eye witnesses of the actual shooting had been found, the origin of the shot cannot be definitely determined at this time."

Along the Maryland and Virginia coast, menhaden, a species of fish, are known as hughad, bugfish, alewife, oldwife, greenail, and chebog. The Tutela Heights house of Alexander Graham Bell has been preserved as a museum in the heart of Brantford, Ontario.

In Memoriam

FAWNEY: In loving memory of dear "daddy" William W. Fawney, who passed away January 22, 1949, of my dear mother, Jennie Myers, who passed away, Jan. 25, 1949. In my heart lies a picture, as precious as silver and gold, a picture of my dear loved ones, whose memory will never grow old. Sadly missed by their daughter, Mrs. R. V. MacNeil.

In loving memory of our daughter, sister, Beulah Bluebaugh, who passed away 6 years ago, January 1946.

You are gone and with you my dreams at play, my blue skies and happiness. You took them all away.

You still left a memory which I dream and pray, memory where you are with me and never go away.

Now we have another chair in our home, but it's my husband and father, at that sadness where we roam, those graves, our precious ones loved but could not save. Oh, many a tear we shed while others are asleep.

Sadly missed by Mother and Mabel

FIRST CAVALRY LEAVES KOREA TO DEFEND ISLE

Camp Crawford, Hokkaido, Japan, Jan. 23 (AP) — The battle-hardened U. S. First Cavalry division has been pulled out of Korea to defend Japan's northernmost island.

Russian troops on Habomai island are only 3 1/2 miles away. The Russian-occupied Kuriles are 10 miles to the east. Russia's Sakhalin is less than 30 miles to the north.

Maj. Gen. Thomas L. Harrold, division commander, said today, "I can assure you of this: If they land here we'll be ready for them with everything we have. We feel we are as much on the front line here as we ever were in Korea."

The division's move from Korea was completed New Year's eve—but was withheld until today. The 45th division, former Oklahoma National Guard unit, replaced the First Cavalry in Korea.

It is an ironic touch that the famed dismounted cavalry is now the key division in the U. S. defense force for Japan. The cavalymen were flown into Japan from the Philippines to cement the surrender in 1945. Five years later the division was rushed to Korea to help stem the Red invasion. Now, after 17 months of bitter combat, it is back in Japan—to defend a former enemy.

There is irony, too, in the division's present training program. Men of the First Cavalry rode spirited horses on the wide plains of America. They rode tanks into Manila. They rode planes into Japan. Now they are learning to fight in the mountains—on skis and snowshoes.

"The First Team" The cavalymen brought just the clothes on their backs. They gave their vehicles and equipment to the 45th division—and took what it left in Hokkaido.

The cavalymen call their outfit "the first team." They were first into Manila and Tokyo in World War II. In Korea they were the first Americans across the 38th parallel; first U. N. troops into the North Korean capital, Pyongyang; first to be hit by the Chinese Reds when they entered the war.

Now reconnaissance parties are traveling through Hokkaido, gathering information which will be vital if the island is attacked.
